

God at the centre.

It is so exciting that you want to have God at the centre of your life.

Our 40 weeks journey is all about God taking the place at the centre of our lives, our church, and our circles. If you want to find out more, visit the 40 weeks website and check out the 4 introductory talks there.

You will find here some resources that might be of help to you as you seek to be a person who has God at the core of your life.

This is not a definitive list: these are just some of the things that we have found helpful as we have sought to grow. There are some things here to read, to watch, and to listen to.

You can dive in at the 'Getting Going' or jump to the 'Going Deeper' resources.

Although these things are helpful, what really makes the difference is regularly finding time to be with God. Like any good relationship, what matters is sharing experiences together, and communicating often.

This can be hard in our world: we lead busy lives, and we have many responsibilities. One resource we have found very helpful is a collection of materials, resources and guides called 'Practicing the Way.' You can find out about it here. It's free to sign up, and you can engage with it as much/little as is helpful. As part of this you can create your own Rule of Life: a great tool to help you bring God increasingly into the centre of your life.
